

Abstract

The operating means has a touch-sensitive control surface with an alpha-5 numeric input field (12) onto which at least one number can be entered by tracing.
The number thus entered is transmitted as a setpoint value to the cruise control by a setting function.

Single figure

10